
FRESHNESS AND QUALITY YOU CAN COUNT ON

MOUNT DORA FARMS WORKS WITH A DEDICATED GROUP OF SKILLED FARMERS LOCATED THROUGHOUT HONDURAS TO CONSISTENTLY PROVIDE THE HIGHEST QUALITY RAW PEPPER.

HISTORY

Mount Dora Farms has provided high quality products for nearly 35 years. Established in 1986, Mount Dora Farms is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Seaboard Corporation, a diversified international agribusiness company with annual sales of over U.S. $6.6 billion.

Mount Dora Farms works with a dedicated group of skilled farmers located throughout Honduras to provide, on a year-round basis, the highest quality raw pepper. Mount Dora Farms provides these reliable farmers with seedlings from our own greenhouses for optimal quality control and to ensure timely harvest cycles. Mount Dora Farms experienced staff provides comprehensive and integrated support to these farmers. The result is a pepper that is consistently uniform in size and texture and meets our highest quality standards.

Located in Comayagua, a fertile valley in central Honduras, the plant is an integrated facility. The processing complex receives raw jalapeño peppers year round. After sorting, grading, cleaning and testing the peppers throughout the year, they are processed into a variety of products of different sizes. After packaging, these tasty peppers are ready for export to anywhere in the world.

Mount Dora Farms provides each customer with a high level of attention, constant communication, expert knowledge and the drive to provide service that is unsurpassed. These characteristics define our quest for quality. We focus on each customer individually and strive to meet all of your jalapeño pepper needs.

QUALITY AND SAFETY

We maintain a HACCP (Hazard Analysis/Critical Control Points) program to accompany our up-to-date Good Agricultural Practices (GAPs) and Good Manufacturing Practices (GMPs). This, in addition to many other standards of quality control, always ensures a high level of added value. At Mount Dora Farms, quality and safety are our primary concerns.

Our HACCP program is based on the FDA Guide to Minimize Microbial Food Safety Hazards for Fresh Fruits and Vegetables, and the IFPA and WGA Voluntary Food Safety Guidelines for Fresh Produce. An HACCP team has identified the critical points in our operation. To assure the correct implementation of the HACCP program, we developed an audit system that is carried out by our in-house Quality Assurance team that enables Mount Dora Farms food safety program to meet the requirements of the U.S. Department of Agriculture Quality Through Verification program. Mount Dora Farms is also certified as C-TPAT compliant by U.S. Customs and Border Protection. Further, our entire Comayagua, Honduras facility is ISO 9001 certified.

Our quality and safety standards are proudly among the highest in the industry.

PRODUCT SPECIFICATIONS

With annual capacity of over sixteen million pounds, Mount Dora's processing plant in Comayagua, Honduras can provide a variety of jalapeño peppers, both green and red. Although we focus on pepper halves, if you require unique specifications, we can be quite flexible. We proudly provide sizes other than standard ones. We also provide unique customized products such as hot pepper mash.

PACKING SPECIFICATIONS

Our processed jalapeños, both green and red, can be packed in plastic pails or in sealed bags which are normally placed in reusable plastic crates or specially designed corrugated boxes. All varieties are set in a brine preservative. With on-site warehousing and container loading facilities, we are able to ship our tasty processed peppers throughout the world.
